

Privacy Policy

INDOPS, values your privacy. This privacy policy describes how we and our company owned brands, subsidiaries and/or associates, collect, use and we make sure your information are not getting disclosed.

Personal information is information that identifies you, or from which your identity can be reasonably determined, and it can include your designation in the institution, institution name, school name, email, phone number and some of your transaction details such as order id, transaction id and some of your transaction details.

We collect and use your information, including your personal information, so that we can, assist you with your transactions with us tell you about and improve our products, services, and experiences. For other reasons you might reasonably expect us to use your personal information for.

Our Sites may contain links to other websites we have no control over and there are always risks in sharing information over the internet. While we take reasonable precautions so that our Sites are hosted and operate securely, you should also take precautions to protect your information. This might include checking that you are accessing a secure server or for the presence of the unbroken key or closed lock symbol generally located either at the bottom left or top right of your browser window. You could also check that your URL is secure by looking for the first characters 'https' (rather than just 'http').

We are also compliant with the Payment Card Industry Data Security Standard (PCI DSS) which is an information security standard for organisations that handle credit card data. This means that when you shop with us, both in-store and online, your credit card details will be handled using secure processes. But you should still exercise caution when shopping online, and never enter any credit card details when contacting us via email or through our website "Contact Us" form as in these instances those details will not be protected by encryption.

If you become aware that your information has been subject to unauthorised access, use or disclosure, you should contact us immediately.
